Introduction

01

Delta Sculling Center is a nonprofit rowing community (based in Stockton, California) where everyBODY sculls. We're committed to making the sport of rowing accessible to all, regardless of age, ability, or economic means, serving both youth and adults through programs for youth rowers, adults of every experience level, veterans, and adaptive athletes alike. At the heart of everything we do is a simple belief — that rowing builds healthy habits, confidence, and lasting friendships, and that power should be available to everyone in our community.

DSC's Port City Paella Dinner is a brand-new fundraising event this year, created to bring our community together in support of Delta Sculling Center's mission and to help us continue growing our programs for everyone we serve.

"It's so inspiring to see all people – physically challenged, cognitively challenged & able-bodied all working closely together to enjoy the beautiful sport of rowing. DSC truly offers a setting where everyBODY can row and feel the glow of success."

A Story Worth Sponsoring

Sponsoring our Port City Paella Dinner is a meaningful way to put your business in front of a warm, engaged community while directly supporting Delta Sculling Center's mission to make rowing accessible to everyone we serve.

The evening will center around a conversation with Sam Quinones, an award-winning author known for finding extraordinary stories in everyday American life. His book, The Perfect Tuba, follows tuba players and band directors who found purpose not through fame or fortune, but through hard work, perseverance, and community — people who found belonging simply by showing up and doing something they loved, together.

That story feels like home to us. Rowing isn't the flashiest sport, but for the youth, adults, veterans, and adaptive athletes we serve, it offers the same thing Sam writes about: a place to belong, a reason to keep showing up, and the quiet confidence that comes from working hard alongside others. An evening with Sam isn't just a great night out — it's a true reflection of everything Delta Sculling Center stands for.

Thank You

09

Thank you for taking the time to consider becoming a sponsor of our Port City Paella Dinner. Delta Sculling Center exists because of the generosity of partners like you — businesses and individuals who believe, as we do, that everyBODY deserves a place to belong, grow, and thrive. Whatever level of support feels right for you, know that it directly helps us keep rowing accessible to the youth and adults, including veterans and adaptive athletes who call Delta Sculling Center home.

We'd love to have you join us for this special evening.
